LIFE

in D. H. S.

Introduction

A custom neglected since grandmother's day has again been renewed until today thousands of people are expressing their thoughts and impressions in small leatherbound volumes. Yes, diaries are back again!

We of the Medley Staff happened upon one such volume this year and, having that characteristic of all journalists, curiosity, we read the diary. We were completely sold on it and decided that a work of this magnitude should be made available to all. So we decided to incorporate the diary into the 1942 Medley adding appropriate pictures to complement the contents of the diary.

The diary is a collection of thoughts and impressions of a high school girl received during a year at Danville High School. Due to her efficiency and industry in setting down these comments, we have a very complete and vivid picture of what happened at D. H. S. during the past year. Her style is breezy and informal—typically "high schoolish" and wholly enjoyable.

Who is the author of this gem of the daily life of American youth? She might be your best girl or your sister. She might be that talkative girl in your Latin class or she might sit next to you in roll call. Or she might be your daughter, of whom you are so justly proud. Let us say she is a typical American girl—which is the highest compliment that we can give her.

We are glad to be able to share this diary with you. Let's take a look at it!

DEAR DIARY:

A Senior—a dignified Senior, it hardly seems possible that I've been here four years. It seems just like yesterday that I ran around these halls madly hunting my classrooms. How clearly I remember my embarrassment and my fright. I soon lost that! Now I sorta wish I were still that young. It's exciting all right to plan for the future but no matter how I plan I'm sure I'll never have four years packed as full of pleasant memories and good friends as these four. It's certainly true that you never realize how much dear old D. H. S. means to you until you start planning for graduation. Then it seems that all you think of is, "this is my last assembly," or "this is my last report card," or "my last play." It's not so much fun growing up. When you're in school things are all planned for you. All you really do is follow a plan, adding something here and there. Now it's up to you. You're on your own. Everyone who has graduated from D. H. S. knows that he has had the very finest preparation under the very finest teachers. That's certain. Believe it or not, we've learned a lot in between All-School parties, club meetings, and season's games. Well, that's finished now so U. S. A. here we come! Ready for the future!

The Last Word

We're plunging into the sea of life,
Into a world that's full of strife,
The water's deep the current's strong,
But we'll come thru with a victory song.

The lighthouse of truth will guide us through,
And save us from the depths of blue;
Twill keep us off the failure rocks
And lead us to those successful docks.

Chorus:
Our friends, our thoughts, our memories,
Will come to us in reveries.
We proudly wave our beige and brown,
No better one could eer be found.
Danville High, here's a toast to you,
From the hearts of the class of forty-two.

THE JUNIORS AT WORK

Dear Diary:

At last I'm an upperclassman! Now it's hard to see why I looked toward this year so much last year, but I guess that's natural, for until you're a Senior, you never really feel as though you've "arrived". In almost every instance you can see the leaders coming up as I knew they would last year, and it sure makes you feel as though the people have accomplished something when you see them taking the prominent offices open to Juniors!! We're beginning plans for the Junior-Senior Get-Together, and I'm really enjoying it. We haven't decided for sure, but we think we'll have a banquet and dance. Yes, our class has really gone places, and with the material we have this should make the best graduating class in the history of D.H.S. Next year—I can hardly wait!!

MR. G. ROBERTSON

Dear Diary:

Well, I'm a Sophomore now and mighty proud of the fact that I've survived my Freshman year! Who isn't when he's a Sophomore Now I feel as though I know more about things, and all this year I haven't once looked for 349 or the fourth floor! Yes, I've learned a few things. They say that when a person goes into his second year that his head expands about 10 inches in circumference, but I don't think it's true, for now I'm looking toward my Junior Year as being the one I'm really anxious to have come, not thinking of how big I am now. Next year is really when the "cream leaves the milk", for then is when the leaders come forth the most. Maybe if I really concentrate on my activities and studies, I can be among the "cream", do you suppose?

MR. MINGEE,
Adviser

Dear Diary:

Yes, I'm in High School now, and does it ever make you feel as though you're almost ready to start life in earnest! Just think, in three years more I'll be as worldly as the upperclassmen are now! I wonder if I'll ever be as sophisticated as they look! I doubt it, for everything is still so new to me I feel as though I'm wandering everytime the bell rings and I start for another class. Oh, well, this should be the beginning of all kinds of new experiences and adventures for me, and I can't always be a Freshman!—can I?

Anyway we Freshmen have had more class activities this year than ever before. We collaborated with the Sophomores—was it fun! We have had several class meetings, the saddest of which was when we bade good-bye to our class adviser, Mr. Kenneth Calloway, who went into personnel work for the Navy. Since then Mr. Russell Mingee has been our adviser.

MR. C. E. VANCE

MR. R. M. DUFFIN

Dear Diary:

I thought when I entered High School I wouldn't know anyone except my friends. I was prepared to not have a friend in the place. What a relief when I saw Mr. Vance. You see, I knew him when I was in grade school. He used to help me a lot, but I didn't know I'd meet him here. Now I have found that he's every bit as interested in high school as he is in the grade schools. By being interested I don't mean that he just reads about us in the papers. He helps us a lot. He's really a fine friend. He knows just what to say and when to say it. I hope I'll meet him in the business world after I graduate. His friendship is one to value through life.

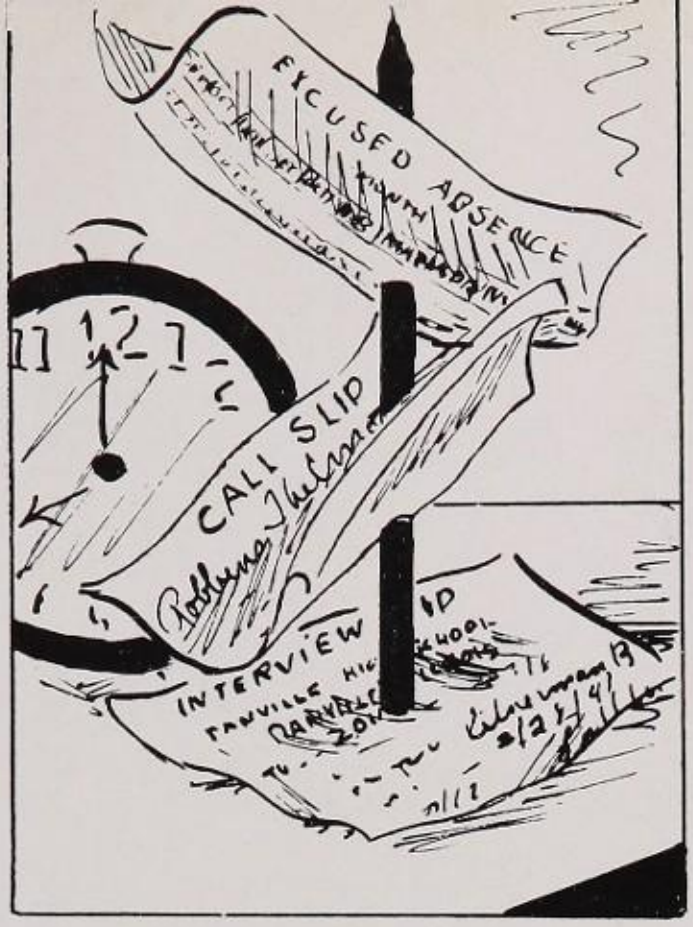
Dear Diary:

Today in history class we were discussing men who had become well known through some famous speech. That made me think of Mr. Duffin. He has really become immortalized by his speech, "We'll now pass to our first hour classes." He's really top man around and, in addition to that, to the kids he's the originator of that well-known speech and a superswell person. Everyone in high school knows him and incredibly enough he seems to know everyone in high school personally! That's quite a trick. I guess it comes with having a fine personality. He certainly has a knack with kids, too. He works with all types of clubs, both in and out of school. He's a handy man to have around 'cause he's an expert on all kinds of things. He's one of those grand people who make you feel sad about leaving, but glad you've had the chance to know them.

STUDENT'S HANDBOOK

DANVILLE HIGH SCHOOL

MISS THOMPSON



MR. SCHOOLCRAFT

Dear Diary:

It is sort of unusual to find Deans who are well liked. Not that it's their fault. They just have a difficult position to fill. Still that doesn't worry our deans. They're not only well liked. They could easily be voted the most popular people in school. A call slip is no longer something to be dreaded 'cause it means a private interview with them. But if you've done something wrong — Brother, start talking fast! Once in a while we do things wrong. That's why it's so fine to have deans who are such swell sports. They're fun, too. You should see Mr. Schoolcraft in one of his rare public appearances or Miss Thompson in her role as an adviser of Girl Reserves! They are really super!

Here at school I guess Mr. Bates would have the title "The Man with the Most Headaches". He's registrar which is a fancy name for fixer-upper. He is the life saver who helps us get our impossible schedules untangled. Few people have gotten through school without having to seek his help for some reason or another.

Of all the teachers in D.H.S. only one has gained the title of Prof. Likable, amiable, easy-going, unperturbed, efficient, dependable, energetic, original, witty. Take your choice. Any one will help you picture the King of 244, his Royal Highness, Superscribe Faulk. He's the power behind the Maroon and White, the school's contact with the Commercial-News, and one of the Hi-Y advisers.

Board of Education

Dear Diary:

Yesterday as I was going to lunch I met the members of the Board of Education assembling for their regular meeting. They are an important and essential part of school life and yet we don't see them much. Their job as nearly as I can find out is to supervise about everything, especially about buildings and money. Being a mere student, I don't know much about their work, but I do know that without them and the time they so generously give, the Danville Schools wouldn't be the good schools that they are.

Back Row—Mr. P. T. Theurer, Mr. H. F. Wolter, Mr. F. G. Anderson, Supt. of Buildings, Mr. J. K. Holmes, Mr. A. L. Bailey, Mr. C. E. Vance, Supt. of Schools.
Second Row—Mr. F. Rearick, Mr. G. Goulding, Pres.
Bottom Row—Mrs. Vera K. Johnson, Sec. of Board, Mrs. S. A. Schickedanz.

Office Staff

Back Row—Marjorie Johnson, Lester Shick, Morris Linn, Esther Funk, Eve Tengen, Dorothy Griffith, Naomi Adams.

Dear Diary:

Today I stopped in the Main Office to buy some defense stamps, but they told me I would have to go back to the business office for that as Mr. Linn handled all money matters, the ticket sales, club treasuries, as well as the defense stamps. They dropped the hint if I was ready to buy a bond I could go to Mr. Shick's office where the finances and book rentals for the whole school system are handled. Before I went, however, I asked the office staff what they were doing for it was certainly one of the busiest places around the school. They told me they spent their time keeping track of me (and others like me), recording my attendance and grades, and keeping a check on my credits which is a very important job as far as we Seniors are concerned. Of course I know they do a lot more that they didn't mention for it takes a highly efficient office staff to keep a big business like our high school running smoothly. We students appreciate that fact and appreciate the work of all our office staff.

High School P.-T. A

Dear Diary:

Today we had an announcement about a P. T. A. meeting for tonight, and I was curious. I persuaded Mother to go and then I just went along. There were lots of mothers and fathers there and everyone seemed to be having such a good time and getting well acquainted. Several students gave some musical numbers which gave the parents an idea of some of the things we do. They told me that one of the functions of the P. T. A. is to acquaint the parents with some of the activities of the school and to help the parents and teachers to get to know each other. We had a good time and I'm sure Mother won't want to miss any of the meetings.

Back Row—Mr. Don Schoolcraft, Sec. Jo Depke, Mr. Russell Duffin.
First Row—Mrs. H. E. Hopewell, Miss Brown, Treas., Mrs. W. D. Skeen, Pres. Mrs. R. E. McNamee, Vice-Pres. Mrs. W. L. Kramer.

Cafeteria Aids

Peach Wade, Elsie Murray, Georgie Johnson, Carl Cramer, Eddis Carpenter, Beulah Brown, Viola Hedden, Edna Carpenter, Bessie Hostetler, Dora B. Crim, Manager.

Dear Diary:

Each day as I have gone to lunch I've wondered about who was preparing the food, so today I poked along and found out about the cafeteria staff. I discovered that their work starts even earlier than ours does, for they must get here and get the food ready for us. Mrs. Crim, who is the able head of this staff, plans the menus and orders the supplies. She really has a job for it's hard to please all the people she serves. When one observes the crowds of kids rushing into the cafeteria at noon one knows that she has succeeded.

Dear Diary:

The other day I had a visitor who spoke about what good condition our school was in and asked who took care of it. I was ashamed of myself for I had always taken it for granted that the building would be warm in winter, and clean and well taken care of. I stopped Mr. Ollis and asked him about it and he explained all about the work of the maintenance crew and introduced me to the men. It gave me a chance to say a belated "Thank you" for all the service they give in helping make our school what it is.

Maintenance Men

Back Row—Herman Snyder, Verard Parker, Palmer White, Howard Dupre.

Second Row—Paul Techtow, Charles Brown, Clarence Plymire, Arthur Williams, Forrest Bonebrake.

Bottom Row—Frank Bailey, Albert Ollis, Otto Buckfellow, Perry Brown, Ollie Bradfield.

Absent—Walter Burton, Lee Page.

November 1941

Dear Diary,
Activities in full swing
by this time!

Dear Diary:

If there is any one time of the year that I like best, it's right before Christmas. All the many clubs and organizations are having parties and banquets and lots of fun! Having so many clubs in D. H. S. certainly increases one's love of school. There are now thirty-seven clubs in our school. The first club to be organized in D. H. S. was Girl's Club in 1902; it can now boast of having the largest membership of any club in school. This year a new club was added to the list; one which serves our country as well as our school and students. This new club for both boys and girls is Red Cross. The members of this fine organization are certainly doing their part.

Belonging to clubs gives a student a chance to learn more about his hobbies and interests. He has lots of good times and learns how to work with people. As he goes through school and is given a higher position in clubs he learns how to meet and handle responsibilities, how to organize and plan, all of which will help him after he's out of school and becomes a citizen in his community.

Teachers who are interested in certain clubs become the club's advisers. They work with the students and help them plan social events and instruct them in certain lines such as dramatics, music, photography, science, etc. This also promotes greater understanding and friendship between student and teacher.

Not to be forgotten are the athletic organizations. D. H. S. endeavors to develop its students physically as well as mentally. For the boys we have eight major sports: varsity football, cross country, varsity basketball, swimming, wrestling, track, tennis, and golf. Boys may win their "D" in any of these sports. Eligibility for a "D" means that the student must have taken an active part in actual competition in any of the above athletics. In addition to this he must have the proper attitude towards school, practice faithfully, have some amount of ability as a player, and meet the scholastic requirements. Under the guidance of able coaches our athletes learn good sportsmanship and the fun of being fit!

HAROLD AND MR. DUFFIN

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

Left to right—Betty Garner, Sec.; Harold McLain, Pres.; Josephine Depke, Vice-Pres.

DEAR DIARY:

Oh, Diary, this morning was another meeting of Student Council and I nearly forgot about it. At 8:15 I happened to remember and madly rushed to 147. When I came in Mr. Duffin, the adviser, was discussing the assembly program that would be paid for out of the fund that was collected at the first of the year. Incidentally, we certainly have the programs! All the way from voice specialists to speakers on India! The council, or the workers in D. H. S., is composed of all the kids who are presidents of organizations and those who are elected by their class to represent them.

A TUESDAY MORNING MEETING

ASSEMBLY DRIVE

COKE PARTY

DEAR DIARY:

This afternoon I went to Girl's Club's first meeting. They certainly have good times and it looks like more fun than ever this year. After Jo called the meeting to order she listed some of the activities of the year. We've an awful lot to look forward to—All-School parties, the Christmas party, games and camp meetings. She explained that this year the girls are to be divided into five camps. Each camp chooses its own name and leader. They surely have some cute names. The cutest, I think, is "Catch 'um Man if 'um Can." The others are "Busy Beavers," "Tawasee," "Tecumseh," and "Camp Friendly." These camps will have charge of most of the meetings, I guess. Camp Tawasee has the first camp meeting. I wonder what they will have?

JUNE BELL

DEAR DIARY:

I'm really worn out! I've just got to tell you where I've been. though! Tonight was the fall All-School Party. I'd never been to one before, and was it fun! We danced and played bingo and threw darts and had our fortunes told. Then we went into the boys' gym for the floor show. They had a solo tap dancer, a magician, a couple tap-dance, singers, comedians, and ever so many good numbers. Then, during the dancing, a huge cellophane bag of balloons that hung in the middle of the gym broke, and what a mad scramble! We finally got one, but it soon popped. I've never had so much fun, and I'm looking forward to the next one. Well, so much for now.

AT CAMP!!

Girls' Club

Dear Diary:

This afternoon the Girls' Club held their installation service. Honestly, I never realized that there was enough work in that club to keep such a mob of committees busy. But each committee has just loads of duties! The advisers who introduced their committees told us all about them. I never knew that besides checking attendance after every meeting the Membership Committee plans all the initiation ceremonies! I can see how that would keep them busy all right. I always knew that the Program Committee had their work cut out for them in planning all of the meetings except initiations. Then there's the Publicity Committee. I know from experience that it's no easy matter to see that the announcements are on the boards and in the paper and in the teachers' bulletins. It's a good thing that each of these committees has two advisers to supervise their work—and I do mean work!

Committees

Dear Diary:

I'm running over into tomorrow's, but I've just got to finish this stuff about the committees. It's still left me in a sort of daze. If I ever decide I'm not getting enough credit for something I'm doing, I can think of these committees. The social service is my pet. I think it's grand of them to give that party for the grade school children. I helped with it last year, and it sort of does something to you to see how thrilled those kids are over their gifts. The program is always tops in kids' entertainment. I guess I'm still a kid at heart, though, 'cause I liked it, too. The social committee does entertaining around school, while the financial committee works with every committee. I think they are the busiest, because they are on every party, besides their work to make money. They get all their money by selling candy and ice cream at the games. Every one of the members of that committee really works, and we do appreciate their activities even though half the time we don't know whom to thank. I guess I'll have to tell everyone about these committees so they can appreciate them the way I do now.

Standing—Mr. Zeiter, Mr. Harms.

Dear Diary:

Tonite was the last meeting of Science Club for this year. They had the nominations of next year's officers. I envy those kids. They have another year of these interesting meetings ahead of them. It won't be better than this year, though, I'm sure. We've had almost every imaginable kind of a meeting. I think I liked the motion pictures best, though. It's almost as good as traveling to see the pictures of someone else's trip. Still all the meetings were fine and I'm glad to have gone to them all.

Front row—Miss Markley, Eloise McKeown, Miss Roach.

Dear Diary:

This afternoon International Club had their Xmas Party. The program was awfully cute! A girl from each language department came out, dressed in costume of that land and told us about their Xmas customs. Then we all sang carols in the different languages. We didn't do so well in any but the English ones, but we had fun trying. Then to top things off, we had swell refreshments. As we left, we were given Christmas cards with greetings in five languages. Just think, now I can say, "Merry Xmas" in four languages besides English!!

Dear Diary:

Rah! Rah! Sis-boom-bah! Ever been caught in a parade of football enthusiasts? A Booster Parade caught me in the midst of their turbulent mob and before I knew it, I, too, was yelling my head off and grabbing any passerby. The Boosters are really the backbone of the teams, the people who stick through thick and thin. As to club events, the spring picnic is anticipated by not a few members, for it is the highlight of all Booster activities. The two advisers, Miss Cowan and Mr. Schoolcraft, were swell to me, too, and after the parade I felt as though I'd met some fine people.

Dear Diary:

"Danville High School is on the air." These familiar words greeted me when I unconsciously (and I do mean unconsciously) walked into the auditorium today, where Mr. Purkey and a hushed group of participants were sitting on the stage, quaking in their boots, waiting their turn at the "mike". As the program went on, I noticed and also admired the way in which the talent on the program was used to its utmost degree, no doubt the work of Mr. Purkey, a swell guy!!

Dramatic Club

Dear Diary:

Monday—after eighth hour today I went to the auditorium with Virginia Reese, president of the Dramatic Club, to attend a meeting and find out just what they do. I had a lot of fun watching ambitious dramatists perform on the stage. Virginia explained that at the first of the year, play groups are organized and chairmen appointed. At each meeting after a few announcements, one of the groups stages a one-act play. These meetings are held every other Monday and the cabinet meetings on the intervening Mondays. The cabinet plans the social activities of the club, the most important of which is the annual Christmas banquet, a gala affair where the members and alumni of the club get together for a good time. The highlight of the year is the annual Dramatic Club play, which is usually given in February. The direction of Miss Mary Miller, D.H.S. dramatic coach, always guarantees a really finished product in any of the school's plays.

Thespian

Left to right, back row—Bob Fouts, Robert McIntosh, Katherine Gossett, Betty Firebaugh, Bill Barker, Bill Bishop.
Front row—Eileen Shephard, Jean Randolph, Jeanine Moore, Helen Below, Mary Matthius, Betty Boink.

Dear Diary:

Oh, if I could only act like Hepburn! Today some of my more dramatic-minded friends were jumping for joy because they made Thespian. It's really an honor to be taken into this national dramatic honor society, for scholarship, as well as acting ability, enters into the selection of these talented students. Every spring about this time, new Thespians are chosen. Those students who have been active in Dramatic Club work and have had a part in a major production were eligible for membership providing (here's the catch!) they are in the upper third of their class scholastically.

Quill and Scroll

Dear Diary:

Today in assembly some of my friends were chosen for Quill and Scroll. Quill and Scroll is an international journalistic society which recognizes outstanding journalistic work on high school publications. As soon as a student makes the Maroon and White staff or the Medley staff his one ambition is to be awarded the Quill and Scroll pin, which he may get if he works hard. Hard work alone will not do this, however. A candidate must not only come up to the journalistic requirements, but he must also come up to certain scholastic standards.

Honor Society

Dear Diary:

I wish I had studied a little harder! If I could just make my four year average come up to 90 or above, I could have been one of these honored few. Our Honor Society is a local one, organized in 1940, and membership is given only to students of Danville High. Honor Society is a real reward for good grades, and serves as an objective for high school students.

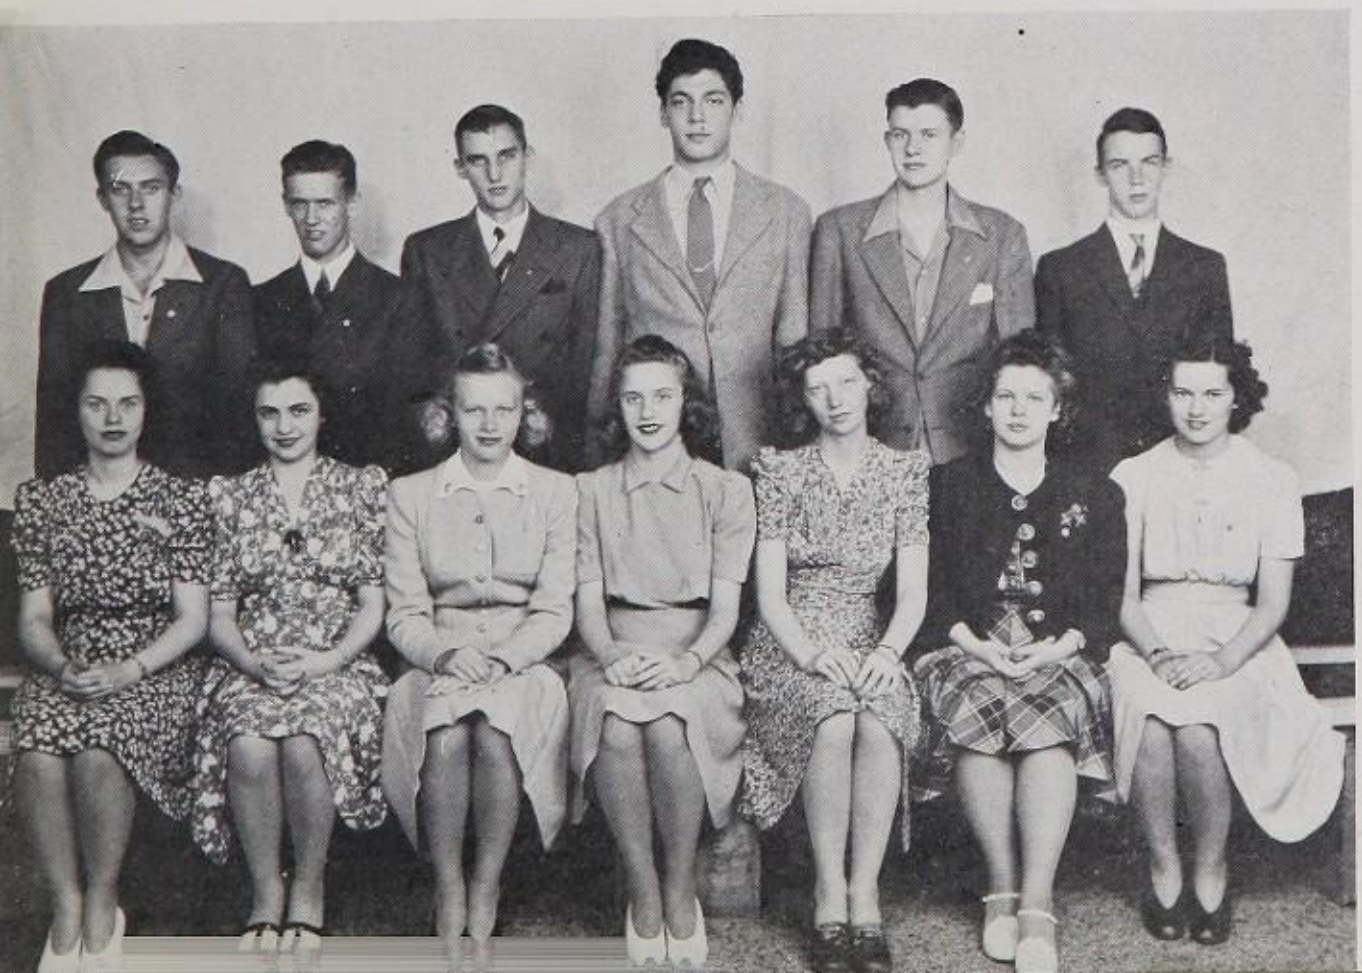
Front row—Haroldene Horner, Lillian Fagan, Ann Carter, Virginia Kendall, Esther Dunwoody, Dorothy Syrcle, Dorothy June Smith.



Dear Diary:

Why wasn't I blessed with a three-decker mathematical brain! All I would have had to do was to have a 90 or above average every semester for at least three years in Math, and I would have got my John Henry on the honor plaque. But alas, figures (that is, numerical) just seem to whirl around in my head, and I never can come out with the right answer. I can just see myself, walking up on the stage on Honor's Day to get the award!

MR. HOGBIN
BOB BEVER

Dear Diary:

Mr. Hogbin was sure going to town tonight at Photographers Club when I came in for their meeting. I've never heard so much about cameras and composition in general—and it was interesting, too. I couldn't help but notice the good spirit that seemed to be so much a part of their discussions—and you can bet they really accomplish things.

First Row—Miss Parker, J. Frobose, M. Clink.
Second Row—Miss Potter, R. Shahadey, Miss Miller.

Dear Diary:

You know, seams, stitches and cooking of ALL things never bothered me before today—. Needless to say, I was literally "swept off my feet" down the hall to a Home Economics meeting in their usual room, 240, where the members were industriously discussing their individual problems. They tell me, too, that this is one of the oldest clubs in school, established in 1929, a firm recommendation for any club.

INITIATION

Dear Diary:

"No, drop your arm just a trifle—higher—there." Did you see that crook in my neck this afternoon? I'll simply say, "I posed for Art Club," and I'll appreciate any sympathy. When I entered the room, everyone was so busy with their own work I felt like an ugly duckling, but not for long, for Miss Sullenberger came up and I was soon as busy as the next one. For a firm foundation in the finer arts, no club in school has more to offer than Art Club, and no one has a better feeling of mutual interests.

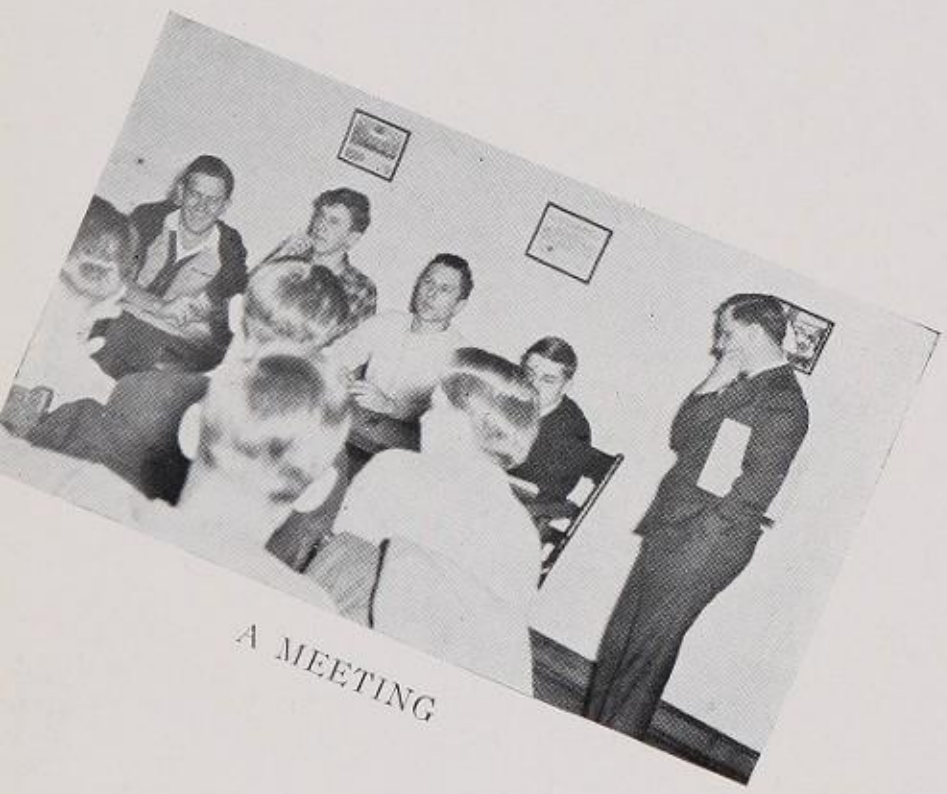
Second Row—V. Irvine, M. Dailey, B. Sprouls, I. Toby.

Dear Diary:

"Honestly, Jane, I almost have to use 'ain't' here to get the atmosphere of Bob's slang, oh dear! I'll never get this theme half way right!" Such lamentations as this one filled the air as I came into 212 for a W.W.W. meeting, where the club's adviser, Miss Boyer, and several other members were clustered about a despairing, but budding genius. Such co-operation and unity as this marks Worth While Writers throughout school as the most ambitious and spirited of our aspiring journalists.

Hi-Y

Left to right, front row—Mr. Rodgers, Ed Koebrich, Pres.; Mr. Faulk.
Back row—Joe Payne, Ralph Laird, Francis Spears.



A MEETING

Dear Diary:

This evening the Hi-Y Clubs had another banquet. Don't get the wrong idea though. Eating isn't their only activity. Not by a long shot!! Their purpose is to promote and to extend throughout the school and the community high standards of Christian living,—so I found out. On the strictly school basis they stand for clean scholarship, clean sportsmanship, clean speech, and clean living. Our Hi-Y Clubs live up to every one of these standards. There are two clubs, the Junior, with freshman and sophomore members, and the Senior, with junior and senior members. The total personnel of the club consists of about 60 boys. Every one of these boys is interested in building character for himself and in promoting the best interests of D.H.S. This is quite an objective for high school boys but they do it all right!!

Dear Diary:

Today after school I went to the Girl Reserve Meeting at the Y. W. C. A. Since the theme was Christmas two girls had arranged a sort of an altar in the front of the room. It was all white and on either side were two beautiful Xmas trees. It surely did affect me. In the center stood a candelabra with white candles and above it was a framed picture of the Infant Jesus. The room was completely dark except for the light of this altar. As the girls came in, a hidden record played Xmas carols and then everyone sang. The guest speaker was Rev. Bernthal, who gave a very short but nevertheless marvelous talk. That was all there was on the program, but it was enough. I think it was the most impressive G. R. meeting I have ever been to. Still it was just typical of that club. They always have something worthwhile to tell every girl. That's what they stand for!

Dear Diary:

This morning we had a super fine assembly. It was the annual Christmas assembly. But this year the choir did something they had never done before. Instead of presenting the A Cappella in a cantata, they were dressed as carolers in their hats, coats, and mittens, standing on the street corners. I liked it for it all seemed to be so natural. The carols were beautiful. They were all about far-off lands like Lapland and Bulgaria, and were sort of minor, I guess. Anyway, I know I'll always remember this assembly. I think it was the most beautiful we've ever had.

Orchestra

Dear Diary:

This evening I went to the Music Department annual concert. I guessed from the assembly that it would be good and for the first time in my life I guessed right!! It was superb! I think our orchestra is the best in the state. No foolin'. They're tops. I've never heard any orchestra play the "Waltz of the Hours" any better than they did and that's saying something 'cause I've heard a lot of good orchestras. The band played some fine numbers, including some cute novelty numbers but I prefer the orchestra. I sort of go for their fine violin section. Sorta like a "moth for a star" (that's what Eng. Lit. does for you!). Well, anyway, the whole concert was wonderful, but I guess I've raved enough so I'll trot off to bed.

Dear Diary:

Well, today my inquisitive nose got me into one of the best half hours I've had in school. You know what I mean? Yip, I went into G201 just in time to get in on their 8th hour Senior Band Class. The Band was tackling some numbers that actually stump college musicians! That's spirit, isn't it? Under Mr. Holl's direction, though, they soon had the bumps under control, and kept on practicing for their part in the annual concert "Moments Musical" that the whole music department puts on every year. To an old admirer of these "operettas" this event stands out as one of the best on the high school calendar. I saw the same cooperation there between the band and the majorettes that they showed in both the football and basketball games all year, and it's really something to write home about—a grand organization!

Maroon and White

STAFF I

DEAR DIARY:

"Prof, are you sure this story is long enough?" "Mr. Faulk, are the stories on Hi-Y and International Club in yet? They're due this noon, you know." Such lamentations as these filled the air as I came into 244 this morning to see just exactly what goes on in the "haven for journalists," on second floor. "Prof", as his friends affectionately call him, was in deep discussion with Don Skadden, this year's editor, and could hardly wait to get on to his work, but he took time out to tell me that his roll call is the First Staff of the Maroon and White, and is responsible for the bi-weekly edition. While there I couldn't help but notice the feeling of understanding and aid that exists between the staff members, the best recommendation anyone can give to any organization of this type.

STAFF II

DEAR DIARY:

Was I surprised to learn that the Second Staff of the Maroon and White is just as important as the First Staff! Most people are under the impression that they aren't, but just mention that to a member of the staff, and then watch out! When I came into 312 everyone was buzzing around working on this week's edition, but Wayne Barkley, the editor, came up and soon I was just as much at home as the staff itself! I sure was interested in the good feeling of mutual understanding there is there, and I think that if I work hard some day I may be advanced to this grand staff!

PROMISING ROOKIES

Dear Diary:

Today I find myself leaning toward a journalistic career after visiting 308 and 312, roll calls for aspiring writers. Miss Mielke, adviser for the "Second Staff", told me that the staff is now on an equal basis with Mr. Faulk's staff, and puts out the paper bi-weekly. I went to Miss Stapp's room and she explained to me that while the aspiring genius "learns the ropes", he is under her guidance, ever looking toward the day when he will leave the "Cubs" and join one of the other staffs. All in all, for the training written expression requires, no other organization in school is more valuable!

Dear Diary:

This morning I helped distribute Maroon and Whites in 206. A home room agent distributed the paper to subscribers in his roll call and it really is a service to the staff—since school news is at a premium on a "Blue Monday". Everyone grabs his paper and buries his nose in the latest issue as soon as possible, which is what every good student does on Monday morning even if it does drive a study hall teacher to the end of her patience!

Seated—Esther Ellen Brittingham, Barbara Meade, Miss Stapp, Virginia Dodd, Jean Holmes Absent—John Morton Jones.

Dear Diary:

Just emerged from a club meeting. Heard some inspiring oratory on the present crisis. The president, Phil Garinger, explained to me that the club was established in 1910 for the introduction and development of public speaking in Danville High. I think this is a pretty good idea for almost everyone whether in a profession or not will be obliged to speak before the public at some time in our lives. This gives the student valuable experience in meeting the demands of such an occasion, teaching him poise and platform ethics. This club sponsors the annual Thanksgiving assembly and enjoys various social activities throughout the year.

Dear Diary:

An inter-class debater I find is just what the name implies—a debater (and usually an enthusiastic one). This activity is sponsored by Wranglers Club and develops a specific branch of public speaking. Each year it has a series of debates in an attempt to determine just who are the best debaters. The finals are presented to the student body in an assembly and the winners' names are inscribed on a cup under the names of former winning teams.

Library

Dear Diary:

Today I went to the library 8th hour to work on my term paper and am I having a time! I just couldn't seem to find a suitable reference until Miss French came along and offered her assistance. Several students were in the same predicament as I, but others had found their books and were busily writing away. About the time I had settled down to taking notes the bell rang so I decided that I'd take the book home and finish the reference.

Triple A

Dear Diary:

Today I was asked to attend a meeting of the Triple A and I was really surprised when I learned how the club had grown in its year of existence. I tip-toed in so as not to disturb them as they were in a deep discussion of the Phyllis-Wheatley - Triple A Annual Christmas party, which really sounded as if it were going to a club highlight. Mr. Read is the adviser and under his guidance I look for this club to go places in the near future.

Dear Diary:

After my visit with the Triple A I decided to see what the Phyllis Wheatley Club was doing. All these girls were having a very instructive and interesting meeting with Miss Glindmeier and Miss Hofmann as their advisers. I learned that this club is sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and carries the ideals of the Girl Reserves.

Medley

Dear Diary:

Eighth hour today I watched the Medley staff at work on the 1942 yearbook in room 246. Bill Read, editor-in-chief, was consulting Miss Watkins about something or other while Mary Bryant, head of the material concerning the school clubs, was talking to three people at once. In another corner the business staff, headed by Harold McLain, was considering means to get students to pay for their Medleys. Bob Bever was out taking pictures with the rest of his staff.

Staff

The art staff was the only quiet one in the room. They were quite busy racking their brains for ideas. Geneva Smith found time to tell me that her school staff was responsible for the assemblage of class pictures. I was very impressed with the efficiency of the whole staff, but just one thing that puzzles me—how do they ever get a book out?

Dear Diary:

B. A. A. (Boys' Athletic Association) was one club meeting I couldn't go to, since that club is open only to the boys in high school. Their chief duty is to help to select the boys who are to wear a coveted "D" on their sweaters. The officers of the club and Mr. Schoolcraft helped to contribute to the final decision. This group of boys also helps to contribute to better sportsmanship in the school.

Back row—W. Killough, E. Zander, B. Garner, E. Johnston, J. Gaumer.

Dear Diary:

Oh for the life of G. A. A. It's really swell! Today I went to a board meeting in the gym office, where the members made up of managers and officers offered their own bright ideas to the committee in charge of their annual banquet. One of these meetings is held each week for the purpose of planning tournaments, play days, breakfasts, and ice skating parties, which, diary, I wouldn't miss for the world. Every Friday after school splashes and yells have been heard for the past several months from the pool as the annual water carnival is being molded into shape. Oh, diary, if a girl is really interested in athletics, there's nothing like o' G. A. A.

Dear Diary:

Today I was amused to see some of the fellows from the Boys "D" Association running around trying to get ads for the football and basketball programs. You should have seen the tactics they used. All the way from a plea to a threat! Seriously, though, this is a fine group of fellows. Membership in this organization is open to all boys who have won a "D" in athletic competition, and the fellows really set their hearts on getting one before graduation so they can enter this group of athletic "cream of the crop".

Dear Diary:

Today was initiation for the "D" girls. Following exams I went directly to the gym to participate in the fun fest (for us and not for the poor girls that were being put to their test). There were six girls who had earned their D or 1200 points that were to be taken into the "D" Association. Following this, plans were made for a sleigh ride and also a swimming party. Really, diary, a girl misses a lot if she isn't a member of this athletic organization.

HE'S LOOSE

Dear Diary:

Around school it's an established fact that the '41 D.H.S. gridders played good ball again this year, under the tutoring of their coach, Ned Whitesell. Yes, we had another grand year. Our boys did experience a couple of catastrophes during the season, but at the same time they came through the Urbana and Streator games with some fine exhibitions of the stuff the coach was trying to teach them. During the season the usual "heroes" came to the front, namely, Captain Bill Wayland, Sam Haun, "Dog" Bailey, Bill Marsters, and two outstanding ends, "Ef" Chaney and "Moose" Mauck, the '42 captain-elect. Many of the fans considered our season almost perfect because we defeated both Champaign and Urbana!! The Champaign game was won on a two-point margin by a safety in the last minute of the game. A thrilling climax! The final box score of the season was six wins, two losses, and one tie, thereby tying for second place in the Big 12. Not bad, eh?

PILE UP

Dear Diary:

These boys on the Reserve Football team are just as hard workers as their big brothers on the Varsity. The goal of each one of these boys is to some day make the First Team. The Reserves are coached by Mr. Ave and Mr. Read. This year the team played four games, winning two and losing two—both to Champaign. What the boys lacked in ability and experience, they made up in spirit, for all of them hope to graduate to the Varsity next fall, and come September they'll be right out there working as hard as the next ones!

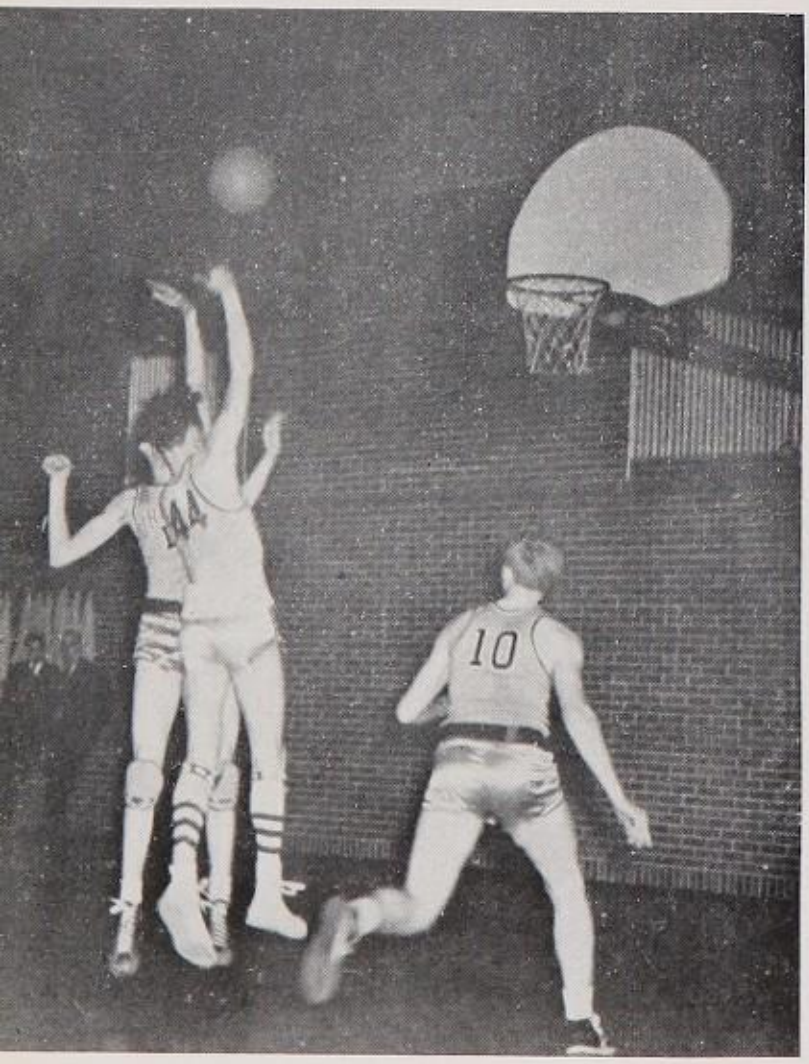
TIP UP!



Dear Diary:

Well, the basketball season is over for another year and I surely hate to see it go. Our team, although green and inexperienced, gave us a really successful season. Throughout the year we won 11 games and lost only 6, besides being runner-up in the regional and advancing to the district, where we were defeated by Hoopeston in our first game. By far the most exciting games of the year were the ones with two of the best teams in the state, Thornton and Streator, later the Big 12 Champs for this year. The Thornton fracas was won in the closing second of the game, the score being 30-29, and Streator pulled ahead in the final quarter to win a decision over our hard-fighting team, 28-22. With this fine showing, the "Silver Streaks" made themselves a team to be proud of and for our opponents to fear.

Dear Diary:

Tonight I went to the basketball game earlier than usual so I could see the reserve game. It was just as good as the varsity battle! With material like these fellows coming up, the team will really step. After the game I met the reserve coach, Glen Robertson, who also coaches tennis, and he gave me all the dope. Mr. Robertson said this year's season was more successful than the preceding years, as the squad had won 7 and lost 7 for a .500 average.

The squad this year was sparked by Dwight Brown, Jack Conner, Fred Nelson, Dave Billings, and Ted Lamm. These boys were the five high-point men in the order named. These players are all sophs except Billings, who is a freshman. Fine seasons were also turned in by John Mosser and Gene Anderson.

The most thrilling game of the season was the hair-breadth battle with Paris at Paris, with the Maroons coming out on top after a hard fight, 40-39. Other standout games were the ones with Kankakee and Champaign, which were also hard-fought games.

KOEBRICH

Dear Diary:

The other day I went to see my first swimming meet. It was surely different than I expected. Thrills galore, too! After the meet I met Capt. Deeken and asked him about how the team had done this season. He said that the year had been highly successful, although they had been hampered by mid-semester graduation. The team won seven dual meets, lost three, and won the Big 12 championship for the fourth straight year. They're really good! On top of that, they qualified two men in the state meet, Eg Hegeler and Capt. Deeken, who gathered enough points to place Danville fifth.

(The defeats were at the hands of New Trier and Oak Park, who placed first and second in the state, and Hammond, the Hoosier state champs.) All in all, Captain Deeken said that the team met the toughest competition to be had and more than held their own, and there we all agree.

Wrestling

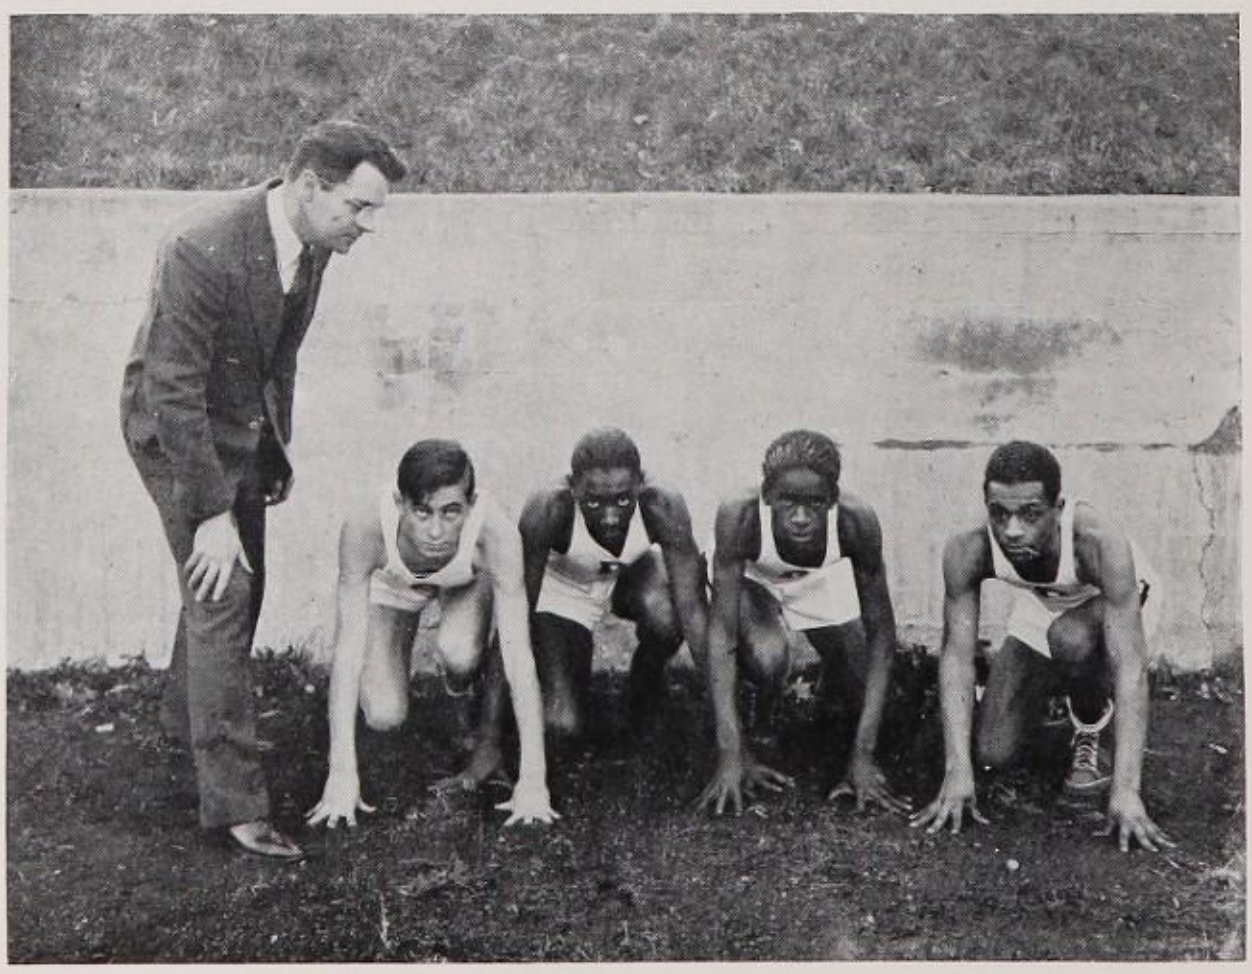
Dear Diary:

The other evening I went to my first wrestling match—and I really enjoyed it! Mr. Bandy, the coach, knows how to get the most out of the boys' ability, because the matches looked awfully brutal to me. This is one sport where a boy doesn't have to have size and weight to earn a letter. This group of D.H.S. athletes had quite a successful season again; the victories included two Big 12 wins over their perennial rivals, Urbana.

Cross Country

Dear Diary:

In the fall of the year when almost everyone is wrapped up in football a small group of boys, under the leadership of Coach R. Mingee, are busy preparing themselves for competition in Big 12 Cross Country. The Cross Country team was dogged by continual hard luck, but managed to finish the season with a good record.



R. MINGEE, FOX, FOULKS, FIELDS, COLLIER

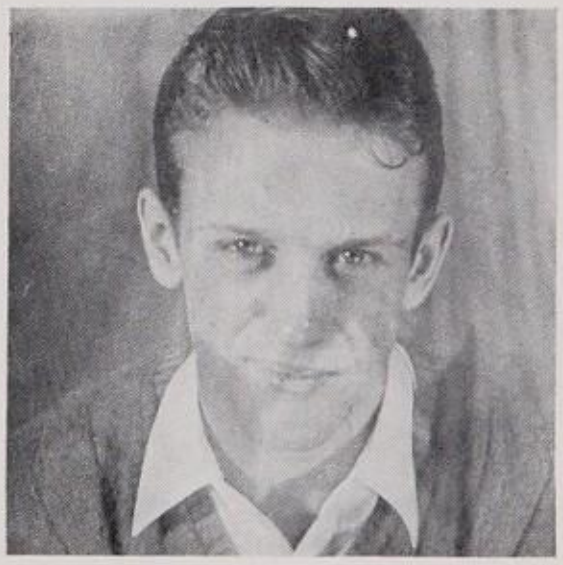
Tennis

Dear Diary:

Is our tennis team ever a whiz! I had heard a lot about them so the other day I went to a practice to find out for myself. The team has really turned in a fine season this last year. They conquered all opposition, winning all dual meets except one, which was dropped by a close margin to Terre Haute. Other accomplishments were the winning of the district meet, placing fourth in the state, and tying for fourth place in the Big 12, with Tom McDonald winning the Big 12 singles title. Coach Glen Robertson's team was composed of Capt. Bud McGrath, McDonald, Dave Spitz, Jack McGrath, Ray Fiock, and Jim Boring, captain-elect for this year. Prospects for this year are not quite so bright, as Capt. Boring is the only regular back. Due to the rubber shortage, balls will be scarcer and there will probably be fewer meets scheduled. But D.H.S. will come through in its usual fine fashion.

CAPT.-ELECT BORING

Golf



TOM McDONALD (Ex-Capt.)

Dear Diary:

One of the most unpublicized teams in school is the golf squad. Most students are surprised to learn we even have one. It is coached by Mr. Hogbin, who is quite a golfer himself. Last year the team participated in the District Meet at Hoopeston, and placed third in a quadrangular meet with Peoria, Urbana, and Champaign. On top of all that, they placed 7th in the Big 12 meet at Urbana. They entered the state meet, but failed to qualify any men. These mystery men were Bill Barker, Phil Johnson, Martin Page, Carroll Starr, Merle Davis, and the captain is none other than Bill Barker!

SPRINT!

UP AND OVER!

Dear Diary:

Have you ever seen a track meet? Well, I saw my first one tonight, but from what I saw it won't be the last—Gee, can those fellows ever run and jump! As this was the last meet of the year, I managed to catch Capt. Cheney and get some information about how the boys had come out on the cinder paths this past season. To start the year, the squad took fourth place in Paris Relays with 42 points. The boys next dropped a close dual meet to Urbana 59-53, but got revenge later on a triangular meet, D. H. S. coming out on top with 60 points and Urbana second with 33. The speedsters ended up in third position at the Newman relays, fifth in the Urbana Relays, and third in the district with 19½ points. In the Big 12 Championships, the squad finished in fifth position with 16½ points. Three and one-fifth points were also brought home from the state track meet. In all respects, the season was a great success, marked by the fine performances of Captain Cheney, Mel Clausen, Harry Collier, Joe Jackson, Colby Carter, Booker Moore, Ralph Cravens, Eric Magnusen and Paul O'Kane.

Numeral

Dear Diary:

Oh, diary, tonight at the banquet I get my numerals to sport around! Maybe by this time next year, I shall have worked hard enough to get my "D". This is only the first award out of four.

Are the Juniors proud tonight! Why shouldn't they be? Their team won the basketball tournament for the second year straight and that's a real achievement for them! In fact, for any team. They really earned it though but rest assured, diary, the Juniors aren't going to win all the tournaments this time. Somebody else will surely win the other sports tournaments from them. It was really fun tonight though. Sometimes I think it is just as much fun to be a good loser as it is to be a winner.

nteresting

Dear Diary:

I was sorta reminiscing today and I decided to see if I could name all the assemblies we've had this year. The ones this year have been better than ever before, I think. The Student Council chose some fine talent for the paid assemblies. They had a man from China, Mr. Brace, who told us about China and its present situation. He had been here before and everyone likes him. Then there was Dr. Shacht, who had a strange program. It was a combination of instruction and entertainment in the singing-speaking line and a patriotic rally. Of course, it was a huge success. Besides these and the rest of the paid assemblies there were several organization assemblies. There was the music department's annual Xmas assembly and the one announcing their fall concert. Wranglers' Club put on their annual Thanksgiving assembly and the finals in the Interclass Debates. Girls' Club had two assemblies, one before each All-School party. There was an assembly before the Senior Class Play, and one before the Dramatic Club Play, as well as one before the Water Carnival. Before the big games we had a lot of pep assemblies and there were some special ones with moving pictures on national defense. Around graduation time we had the usual Class Day assembly (only it had an unusual program) and the different honor days. I guess that just about covers them all. I wish I could see them again. Everyone of them was super, but I think I liked the ones on defense best 'cause they were helpful right now. Well, D.H.S. certainly has fine entertainment. There is no doubt about that!

Dear Diary,

At last graduation!

Dear Diary:

Graduation! Every senior's heart takes a jump when that word is mentioned. To think that they will be out of school and facing the world soon. Many seniors will be taking positions in business firms here in Danville. The business firms of Danville have always cooperated very readily with Danville High School. They have advertised in the Medley as well as other school functions. It is not fair to say that they have favored the Medley, because generosity has been their slogan. Advertising is essential to any yearbook, because it furnishes funds with which to work and also adds life to the book. Any advertising section of any yearbook can be made attractive by sprinkling candid camera shots throughout the section. This adds to the reader's desire to look through the advertising, and that is a prime objective. There is space in the advertising section for students to have autographs, one of the most important interests of the student. All in all, advertising is a means of expression for both the student and the advertiser.

THE ENGRAVING

ENGRAVING CO.

Dear Diary:

Today was an important day at our house. My brother left for the army. We saw him off at the train. There were tears in my eyes as I kissed him goodby. My brother, who has been so kind and understanding, who has advised me and helped me, has offered his future to the defense of our great land.

I was proud and thrilled to see him leave, a member of our own family fighting for that glorious heritage which is ours. But, along with my pride in him came a twinge of pain at my futility and inability to help in this fight for righteousness. But, when I stopped to think, I found a way of helping. Of course, there is a way. By buying United States War Stamps every week, I can, in my own small way, see that my brother, and millions like him, will have weapons with which to spread liberty, fraternity, and equality throughout the world. I now resolve to put a part of every week's allowance into stamps, and to cut down on cokes, movies, candy, and other luxuries which the boys on Bataan never saw.

I think it is the bounden duty of every American to put as much money as possible into this noble fight; by buying bonds and stamps, and by pledging their minds, souls, their muscles, and even, if need be, their very lives to the realization of victory over evil and a lasting peace based on the blessed principles of democracy and Christianity.
